AUSPICIOUS ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR GREAT REUNION OF GRADUATES TO BE HELD DURING FOUR DAYS NEXT OCTOBER

Students To Take Part in Centennial Celebration—Program Replete With Interesting Fixtures—McGill-Toronto Rugby Game To Be a Feature—Scientific Demonstration, Dinners, Dance and Other Entertainments—Several Thousand Graduates Expected.

The hundredth anniversary of Old McGill will be fittingly celebrated next October by the Graduates' Reunion, when men from all over the world will gather together to forge anew their links with their Alma Mater. Already circular invitations have been sent to all the living graduates, and up to the present more than eight hundred acceptances have been received by the committee, who expect that in all there will be at least three thousand graduates taking part in the reunion.

The celebration will extend over four days, from Wednesday, October 12th, to Saturday, October 15th, so that there will be ample time for all to renew their old friendships and visit their friends in the University of their leisure.

The programme, as will be seen, is one that offers a wide variety of attractions calculated to suit the most fastidious taste. On Wednesday, the graduates on arriving will register, following which they will proceed to their several faculties, where luncheons will be served and the visitors will have an opportunity of meeting their old friends, and also of making arrangements for class reunions, dinners, etc. Tickets for the various functions and entertainments will be issued at this time. It is hoped that by the latter part of the afternoon the class arrangements will be completed, so that all may have an opportunity of attending the Principal's reception to be held in the Art Gallery for the graduates, their wives and families.

On Wednesday evening, as a form of welcome, the Students' Council has undertaken to arrange a student entertainment, which will probably take the form of an outdoor fete or "show" on the campus. The arrangements for this are in the hands of the undergraduate body, and with the talent latent among the students many novel and entertaining features are a certainty. The committee feel very strongly that every effort should be put forward to make this a first-class exhibition, as not only will it serve as a great welcome to the graduates on the first day, but also it will bring back to their minds in a striking manner the memories of their student days, so that men who have been closely occupied in their various pursuits will have re-awakened in them the University spirit, and will enter into the proceedings with that sense of "camaraderie" which alone will make the reunion a success.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings there will be special arrangements in each faculty for scientific programmes, which will include special clinics at all the hospitals dealing with the most advanced work, demonstrations in the Engineering, Physics and Chemistry buildings, trips to various industrial plants, Macdonald College, etc.

Early Thursday afternoon, a special

Convocation will be held, when various distinguished graduates will receive higher degrees. The Convocation will be followed by an academic procession from the Royal Victoria College to the old campus, where a garden party will be held under the auspices of the McGill Women's Union. About an hour of the time allotted for the garden party will be taken up with special pageant features, to which the natural setting of the grounds is so well adapted. Thursday evening will be taken up with class dinners, etc.

On Friday afternoon the University Sports will be held in the Stadium. On Friday evening there will be a reception and dance held in the Medical Building, Engineering Building, and in the Royal Victoria College. Tickets for this function will allocate the graduates to their respective faculties.

On Saturday afternoon the big attraction will be the Toronto-McGill football game. A novel feature will be the graduates' procession in front of the stands at half time, when they will be led by the oldest graduate present. The usual exercises of the student body will be carried out in the centre of the field at the same time.

Saturday evening will be taken up with final class dinners and celebrations, which will bring the programme of the reunion to a close. As stated above, the response has been very gratifying, a feature being the keen wish manifested everywhere for co-operation with the committee, who feel that this same spirit which enabled the graduates to exceed their objective of one million dollars in the late campaign, will ensure the success of the Reunion and help to make every graduate present look back in future years on October 12th to 15th, 1921, as one of the happiest times of his life.

Dedication

To the Class of McGill 1921 this number of the McGill Daily is dedicated. Many of them, who are on the eve of passing from University life, have given generously of their services in the preparation of past issues, and we trust that the nights spent down in the old Daily office will not be amongst the least pleasurable of the memories which they will carry with them.

It has been considered fitting, therefore, that the present issue should be in the nature of a valedictory of the year.

MORE SONGS WANTED FOR SONG BOOK

Big Task To Be Completed for Graduates' Reunion.

PRIZES OFFERED.

Appeal for Material for College Songster to Undergraduates at Large.

The Students' Council has sanctioned the formation of a permanent committee to undertake the publication of the new edition of the McGill Song Book. As is well known, there is no song book worthy of the name at McGill. There was one compiled in 1895, but it is hopelessly out of date, and does not even contain "Hail, Alma Mater." A certain Montreal bookseller has had this work reprinted without revision, but it does not seem to have met the great demand for a collection of the best McGill songs.

The graduates are daily demanding a McGill Song Book, and there is none to offer them. It is a crying disgrace that McGill graduates and undergraduates should have to purchase either an out of date work, or one, however excellent, published by an alien institution. It is a simple matter to remove this blot on our escutcheon, and the season is peculiarly appropriate. In the autumn there will be the McGill Centenary Reunion, which will gather together the most famous of McGill's sons once more to sing her most worthy praise. Truly, a Heaven-sent opportunity for the present students of McGill to show their appreciation by providing the necessary paeans of rejoicing.

The book will be published as economically as possible; it is hoped to place the work on the market for $1.00 or $1.25 at the outside. The size of the book is hard to determine, but it will depend largely upon the price of printing. It is hoped to produce between 100 and 150 songs, but the upper limit will of course be a matter of the actual cost of production. There are a large number of songs floating around college which ought to be in, and appeals have been made by letter to a number of organizations. Unfortunately, many of those appealed to are far too modest; they are afraid of duplication. It is far, far better to have three copies of the same song than to have any one song passed over. There is a wealth of material in old annuals which should be fine combed, and every true undergrad owes it to his Alma Mater to dig up "Old McGill" and ransack it.

HUGE SEASON FOR FOOTBALL NEXT AUTUMN

Opening Game on Last Day Of Centennial.

VARSITY—MCGILL.

Men Should Turn Out Early To Learn New Rules.

Football at McGill this fall promises to have one of the most brilliant seasons in its history.

The first game of the season is scheduled to take place on October 15, the final day of the Centennial Celebration. This contest, which will be with Varsity, will in all probability attract the largest crowd which has ever watched local football. Out-of-town graduates to the number of almost one thousand will be in Montreal at the time, and they, as well as all the local "grads," will not miss seeing the old rivals in action.

Another drawing card of the season will be the game with Syracuse University on November 5. This will mark the first step towards putting Canadian football on a basis with the game in the United States. So far, the Canadian game has been heard of little by our southern neighbors, and it rests with McGill to create a favorable impression of our merits. Syracuse has been represented for the last few years by a strong team, and not long ago they were All-American champions. Thus, in the Orange aggregation, McGill meets a stiff proposition.

It is generally felt that the football team has not been obtaining sufficient good material in the past few years, and all efforts will be made to bring out every eligible man with ability on the gridiron. The spring training served at least to show that there is a large number of men at McGill who possess the necessary weight and can be taught the game. These men have not turned out in the past because of their lack of experience, but are urged to come out next fall and learn the game. To further this object, also, the Football executive are planning to conduct an efficient inter-faculty league, and hope, with the co-operation of the (Continued on Page 3.)

CORPORATION DECIDE MANY VERY IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

Building Program Decided Upon—Session in Arts and Law To Be Prolonged—Two Convocations Will Henceforth Be Held—Gymnasium and Dormitories To Be Erected Immediately.

Decisions of great moment to the students at McGill were reached by the Corporation of McGill University which met yesterday. This information, which has been eagerly awaited by its undergraduates, was divulged by Dr. J. A. Nicholson, when interviewed by the "Daily" representative.

The matter of possibly paramount interest is the building programme as contained in the report from the Board of Governors to Corporation. The first provision is made for an extension of the Old Medical building to accommodate the departments of Physiology, Bio-Chemistry, Zoology and Botany. In addition to this a gymnasium and dormitories are to be included in one building. The first floor will be given over to gymnasium work, while the upper three storeys will be given over to sleeping and rooming quarters. The site of this will be just below the stadium, where already considerable ground has been cleared so as to enable the early commencement of operations. No doubt this last announcement regarding the erection of a gymnasium and dormitories will meet with unanimous approval from the student body, on the handicap placed upon Athletics by the lack of the former, and the inconvenience caused to out-of-town men by insufficient rooming premises has been only too apparent. At the most there will be only two items in the proposed building extension completed this year; due to the fact that much saving of expenditure will be effected by delaying for a certain period. However, Dr. Nicholson stated explicitly that the gymnasium and dormitories would be mentioned among these two.

Notable additions are to be made to the library, of which mention is made elsewhere in these columns. Also, a complete remodelling of the interior of the Arts building is projected— which proposal will meet, needless to say, with hilarious endorsement by the frequenters of the edifice at the head of McGill College avenue. A structure is planned to cater to the needs of the metallurgists and mining engineers, thus leaving the Chemistry building free for the study and teaching of chemistry alone.

The length of the term in Arts and Law is to be increased, beginning with the session 1922-23—the year after next. In Arts lectures will commence as usual about October the first, but will continue till the last of April, final examinations taking place during the month of May. The Faculty of Law will open this year on the nineteenth of September, and on every succeeding year on, or about that date; their term has been lengthened correspondingly to that of Arts. A common convocation is contemplated to be participated in by all McGill students, and will take place about June the first. Medicine and Science will have no difficulty in conforming to this plan as their session now takes them well into the latter weeks of May.

There will be in the future two regular convocations, replacing the one regular gathering now being adhered to. June the first will be the time of the first, at which all faculties will be represented. The second will come off on October the sixth, Founders' Day, when a whole holiday will be declared for the undergraduates. This latter is particularly for the benefit of those who may obtain their degrees through the supplemental examinations in September, and also for those who may be deterred by illness or other causes from taking part in the spring convocation.

The curriculum of the Law faculty are entirely reversed. Two courses, B.C.L. and LL.B. will be given each to be of three years duration. The standard of admission has likewise been raised. A senior matriculation standing, or as its equivalent, a year in Arts, will be required of any intending to study for either of the above degrees. The degree of Bachelor of Common Law is especially suggested for any purposing following law in Quebec, while the degree of Bachelor of Laws is recommended for practice elsewhere. These new provisions will come into force next year.

There has also been several changes made in the system of the Medical faculty. Up to the present there have been two heads of each department of Clinical teaching—one representative from each of the two hospitals, the Royal Victoria and the Montreal General. There will now be only one head chosen irrespective of his hospital.

McGill will send a representative to the Imperial Conference in London next June, to be composed of: Principal Sir Arthur Currie, Dean Adams, Dean Birkett, and ex-Dean Lee.

Lastly a committee was appointed to consider and to investigate the advisability and the practicability of limiting the number of matriculants into McGill.

SIC TRANSIT

To-day marks the last appearance of the "Daily" for the session 1920-21, and its passing adds another student activity to the long list of those which have already ceased for the year. In accordance with past custom, this number is specially dedicated to the members of the graduating year. For them, the close of the college year has an altogether esoteric importance, marking as it does the culmination of four or more long, studious years, and at the same time setting a period upon experiences which have been, in most cases, uniformly pleasant.

To this year's graduates, therefore, we extend our heartiest congratulations, and at the same time our sincere regret at the prospect of losing them. To them is accorded, for the first time, the distinction of graduating from a University which has passed its first century, and as such they have the privilege and the duty of rounding off in fitting fashion a hundred years of useful accomplishment.

Perhaps the time has not yet come when those of us who are graduating this year can realize how much we have gained from our college course. We are unable to appreciate in true perspective the relative values of the things which we have done and learned. Some of the more unfortunate are leaving college with a degree, but without an education in the true sense of the word. These are the few misguided ones who failed to realize the opportunities within their grasp for expanding their sympathies and their personality. Their sin was absorption and not development, and through that error they missed the better part of college life.

But these constitute a very small minority. For the most part, the graduates of the year can look back with pleasure to the experiences through which they have passed. The friendly intercourse, the social pleasures, the friendly rivalry on rink and gridiron all blend together into one delectable memory.

It is little wonder, then, that the tie between graduates and their Alma Mater remains so binding and so real. Particularly is this the case with McGill, as has been amply demonstrated during the past year, and as will be shown again this coming autumn. The word "McGill" is synonymous with all that stands for good-fellowship and happy memories, and each successive year but adds its quota to the number of those who share the same sentiments of affection.

But apart from the emotional appeal, there is undoubtedly a wide field open to those who are prepared to show their gratitude to their Alma Mater in a practical fashion. The graduates of the University can, and do in the case of McGill, exert an enormous influence upon the spirit and progress of the college. In the Graduates' Society is located a focus for their "college spirit," and to those who are sincere in their protestations of gratitude, no better means exists of benefiting McGill than by joining the Society and sharing in the various enterprises which they direct.

TO INCREASE ACCOMMODATION OF LIBRARY

New Wing To Be Added To Redpath Library.

URGENTLY NEEDED.

Will Ultimately Give Stackage Space For 140,000 Volumes.

Among the proposals adopted for increasing facilities around McGill was that of the extension of the Redpath Library. Plans submitted have been approved, and the contract will probably be let in the near future. The addition will be in the form of a wing connecting with the present southern extremity of the building. This is expected to be able to provide for the accommodation of approximately 40,000 volumes, which should be sufficient to meet the demands of the Library for some time to come.

At first the entire wing will be devoted to the housing of the number of volumes quoted above, but will be used to temporarily provide for the Blackader Library of Ornithology, this taking up all the space except that required for 96,000 volumes. Above this will be an exhibition room, which will be used for exhibition purposes until required for stack accommodation. The Law Library is at present in the building, but it is anticipated that its removal will enable the room now in use being used as a permanent exhibition space. This exhibition space will be used to display and progress of printing and also to show specimens of rare volumes from the Mussen and Morgan collections. There will likewise be a collection of historical manuscripts and literary autographs, especially Canadian.

The Redpath Library as it now stands has been considerably improved and extended beyond the original plan as it was when received as a gift to McGill from Peter Redpath. It was erected in 1893, consisting of a large hall for reading, and having a stack of about 80,000 volumes. In 1900 this stackage capacity was doubled and the upper portion of the addition was taken over at a Law Library.

At present the stacks include 170,000 volumes, which are constantly being added to, and as a consequence the quarters are found to be inadequate to meet the growing needs of the University. The new wing will place the stacks, which will finally consist of eight stories, opposite McTavish Street, while the new reading room will face on the Campus. An entrance will be opened on the east side, and a few alterations will necessarily have to be made in the old building to join it to the new.

The exterior of the addition will be of the same material as the present structure. By adhering to simplicity of design, expense has been kept within reasonable limits, $185,000 being allotted by the authorities for the extension.

priority. All that you have to do is to put the name of the songs you think ought to go in on a piece of paper, with your name and phone number, and leave it at the Union, or give it to a member of the committee. They will get in touch with you, and you can let them have the tune and words. Now, don't be bashful; this is a real McGill book, just as much as the Year Book, only this will last for at least a generation. There will be a Glee Club next year, and there is always a Rooters' Club, and there will be smokers. Get into your head that it is up to you yourself to lend a hand; it isn't going to take half an hour, and if you imagine you are going to work every single minute up till exams begin, then, like the man who caught the fish on the advertisement, you must be a condemned prevaricator.

Contents.

The Song Book will contain a number of songs, of which as many as possible will be either McGill songs or the larger Canadian universities.

else songs with a McGill association. At present there are not very many available, because some songs are not in the old edition. They must be traced. There will also be a number of "Trench Songs" which cheered the hearts of McGill men in Flanders. "Mademoiselle from Armentieres," "A Little Bit o' Shrapnel," "Oh, It's a Lovely War" — will all be in. A new verse or two has been prepared for "When I Get My Civvy Clothes On," and will deal with the Returned Undergrad.

Right here let it be said that while some songs which are excellent and are well known are somewhat strong meat, yet there is a competent board of musicians and lyric writers to edit any works not up to standard without letting the old tunes die out. No one need have the slightest fear that anything outre will slip by, but in editing care will be taken to leave all the pep in. This is a College Song Book, not a second rate Hymn-book.

The idea is to have not only College songs, but a few old standbys, ballads and cognate songs. There are also some newer songs with a great deal of interest. "Love Will Find a Way," "Madelon," some French-Canadian songs, and also the college hymns of the larger Canadian universities.

COUNCIL WILL SUPPORT SONG BOOK PROJECT

Contract With Syracuse University Ready To Be Signed

INTER-SCHOOL MEET

O'Brien and O'Hagan Appointed to "Daily" Managing Board

At a meeting of the Students' Council last Sunday afternoon, a committee, consisting of D. R. Learoyd, J. C. Copeland, W. F. Macklaier and J. N. Petersen were empowered to draw up suitable contracts for the advertising and printing of next year's "Daily." This question had been gone into carefully at previous meetings of the Council and the committee, and it was hoped that a decision would soon be reached and contracts signed.

To facilitate work about the Stadium, and to provide a permanent trainer for all the college clubs throughout the year, a committee consisting of the presidents of the Track, Rugby and Hockey Clubs was appointed to consider the advisability of employing such a permanent trainer and to discuss applications for the position.

A contract, signed and sent here by the Athletic Association of Syracuse University, and yet to be signed by the Athletic Association of McGill, was read to the meeting and discussed at length. Indications at present point to the forthcoming International game to be a great success. The encounter will be staged in the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium, under the American rules.

The enthusiasm which has been evinced in Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing was very well brought forward during discussion regarding this club. The great increase in its members was most gratifying. Owing to the large number of students participating in these sports it has been found necessary to buy another mat. This, the club executive were authorized to do.

A report by the committee appointed by the University authorities to investigate the feasibility of opening a student supply room was made public. In it were excerpts from the replies sent to those who had written to other universities for information regarding this undertaking.

The proposed new song book came in for a lot of discussion. A letter from H. Wyatt Johnston who had made an exhaustive study of the matter, and who has written to publishers on this continent and in England, was read. In it he advised the formation of committees to handle the various business matters in connection with the publication. The Council voiced their hearty approval of the project and pledged their support. Johnston was at the meeting.

Johnston was at the meeting of the committee, and the sub-committees he advised were approved of. It is expected to have this book published in time for the Centennial Reunion next fall, and it is hoped that its appearance will bring back some of the atmosphere and spirit of days long past.

The first Inter-scholastic Track meet to be held in Montreal for some years, and the first to take place under the auspices of the McGill Track Club, will be held on the 18th of May in the Percival Molson Stadium. Prior to the war, it was the custom for Bishops' College at Lennoxville to hold this annual event, but McGill feels that it is in a better position to do so, and hope by this means to encourage track and field work among its future pupils.

Two appointments made by the managing board of the "Daily" were ratified. Men had been previously appointed to fill the vacancies of Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor, but both the new men were forced to resign. In consequence of this, J. L. O'Brien was appointed Editor-in-Chief for next year, and H. O'Hagan Managing Editor. This will leave a vacancy on the news board, which G. H. Nichol has been appointed to fill.

In keeping with the recommendation passed at a former meeting of the Council, to the effect that henceforth the position of secretary and manager of the Intercollegiate clubs be held by the same man, the Council ratified the appointment of J. L. O'Brien and Charlie Fox as managers of the Track and Hockey teams respectively. These men were elected secretaries of their clubs at the annual meeting of the Students' Society which was held some short time ago.

In recognition of his services as cheer leader during the past year, it was decided to present to C. E. Thompson a signet ring. This ring will be a replica of those recently given to the managers of the Rugby, Hockey and Track teams and to H. Wyatt Johnston. It will in future be the standard form of recognition for valuable services apart from those which merit letters or numerals.

It is expected that another meeting of the Council will be held before the session closes.

LAWYERS HELD TWO ELECTIONS

Scrutineer And Ballot Box Abducted on First Occasion

During the past session it has come to be a matter of common knowledge that members of the Faculty of Law are "The Elect" of the University, but there was considerably more difficulty in establishing who, exactly, were the "elected" in the faculty elections which took place last month.

Previous to the day appointed for polling, the most sensational charges were being bandied around the class during lectures, and at times the lecturer's voice could scarcely be heard above the din of denunciation and the roar of retort. While the exact nature of the trouble is not yet clear, the Irish element of the class entered into the matter with the utmost zeal, and as a consequence it was only to be expected that Tammany tactics would be subsequently resorted to.

The nominees for the office of president of the Law Undergraduate Society were: Messrs. C. Dobell, J. Ritchie and H. H. Kavanagh, but owing to some informality in the nomination of the second named candidate, his name was missing from the ballot papers. This circumstance led to a great deal of recrimination, and the air was filled for a time with threats of quo warranto, mandamus, hanging, and other legal remedies. On polling day feeling ran high, and judging by the anxious look on the face of the Returning Officer, dastardly doings were toward. Unfortunately, these premonitions proved all too true, and there ensued a regrettable incident which serves to show to what lengths a desperate criminal clique will go in the pursuit of what they are pleased to call "Justice."

To enter into the details of the crime were useless, suffice it to say that by some means, at present unknown, the Returning Officer, his ballot box, together with a volume of Cox's Criminal Cases, were spirited to the neighboring municipality of Westmount. Those who witnessed the affair state that the actual abduction was also spirited, while it lasted.

In any case, such grave irregularity could only have one outcome, and at a meeting of the Undergraduates Society, held next day a petition was read, praying that the election be quashed on the grounds of irregularity. The Returning Officer, Mr. Morecovitch, then tendered his resignation and asked that a successor be appointed. Finally a suitable officer (174 lbs., D.S.D. and bar) was appointed to the office, and the elections took place on April 2nd, with the following results:

President—John Long, '22.
Vice-President—B. N. Holtham, '22.
Secretary—Miss F. I. Douglas.
Treasurer—J. Martin, '23.

SCHOLARSHIPS NOW AWARDED

Four in Geology And One in Physiology

Since the last issue of the "Daily" appeared several scholarships and studentships have been awarded, particularly in the Faculties of Applied Science and Medicine. In the former four scholarships have been given in the Department of Geology, while in the latter one student has been awarded a fellowship in Physiology.

G. W. Bain, who is graduating this year in Geology, has been awarded the Leroy Fellowship in that subject. This is tenable for one year at McGill University and becomes effective next fall. Bain has been engaged in various activities during his four years at college, and during the past year has been president of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club, the popularity of which has been increasing by leaps and bounds. Before his advent to McGill he attended the Lachute Academy.

A scholarship given in Geology by Yale University, and tenable at that seat of learning, has been awarded to Doris Dart, who finishes Arts this year. A second scholarship awarded under the same circumstances has been given to Paul Armstrong, while one from Princeton University, for study there, has been won by W. James.

The Cooper Fellowship, about which full details were published in a past issue of the "Daily," has been awarded to Sidney W. Britton, of third year Medicine. Britton, who also won the second junior Medical Society prize, has elected to use the Scholarship of Physiology, and will begin work next fall. This scholarship is tenable for one year, and its value is about one thousand dollars. Britton will stop his medical studies during the year in which he is using the Fellowship.

Various other prizes are yet to be awarded. Notice of some appears in to-day's "Daily," and will provide interesting reading for those who are graduating and would like to try to win one of them.

Probably the largest dairy cow west of the Mississippi is Maid Henry Pontiac, a Holstein owned by the Kansas State Agricultural College. Maid Henry Pontiac weighed 2,150 pounds at the time of freshening recently, and measured 27 inches across the hips. Th' huge cow broke the state record for butter fat by making 31.9 pounds in seven days. She also holds a record of yearly production of milk and butter fat, making 18,377 pounds of milk and 695.6 pounds of butter fat.

Northwestern University was decisively beaten by Purdue University in the dual track meet in the Northwestern University gymnasium. By winning first place in six of the nine events, and a number of seconds and thirds, Purdue rolled up the score to 54 1-2 points; the Northwesterns made 31 1-2 points.

NEW BIOLOGY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

Will Form Addition To The Old Medical Building.
 BEGIN IN SUMMER

Will House Physiology, Bio-Chemistry, Zoology And Biology

During the past year the question of new buildings and other expenditures to be made, to place the University on a sounder footing, has been carefully gone into by Corporation, with the result that some very interesting announcements have already been made and others no less important will soon be made public. One of these which has been known for some time past, but which has not as yet been set forward in all its details, is that of the construction of a new Biology building. As many know, and as has been announced in other Montreal papers, a committee composed of three men recently paid a visit to the universities situated in the northern part of the United States, to study the various buildings devoted to Physiology, Biology and allied subjects. This committee, consisting of Professor Tait of the Physiology Department, Professor Lloyd of the Department of Biology, and R. H. MacDonald, architect, of the firm of Ross and MacDonald, have made an extensive report of their trip. The universities visited included such as the Harvard Medical School, the Yale Medical School, Columbia, New York, the Rockefeller Institute, the New York Botanical Gardens, University of Cincinnati Medical School, University of Chicago, University of Michigan and Toronto University. The trip of inspection lasted about a week and a half, and everywhere the committee were accorded the most courteous treatment and help. All the information desired was gladly given, and the advantages as well as the disadvantages of the various buildings were fully discussed by those in a position to know them. Great interest was expressed in the welfare and success of McGill, which is well known and well reputed in that section of the country. Much valuable information was gleaned as a result of the trip, and the careful study of each building will allow the committee drawing up the plans to profit by the mistakes of others and to imitate their better measures. The new building planned for McGill will take the form of an extension to the Old Medical Building, which has for several years past proved inadequate to meet the demands placed upon it. It is hoped that work will be begun this summer and that the addition will soon be ready for use. The combined edifice will be used to house the departments of Physiology, Biology, Biological Chemistry and Zoology, which are at present scattered over four University buildings. It is planned to change the ground floor, which is now occupied by a lecture theatre and the Biological Chemistry Laboratory, into two large lecture rooms capable of comfortably seating three hundred students. The present lecture room will be somewhat altered so as to provide better facilities for the lecturer and for his auditors. One of these will be on each side of the main hall. The locker room accommodation, which has been inadequate for a long time past, will in all likelihood be increased. The laboratories of the Department of Biological Chemistry will most likely be made in the extension, and will comprise the last word in modern workroom accommodation. Those of the Department of Physiology will remain as they are at present, on the top floor of the building. They consist of two large bright rooms, providing space for many students, and are fitted out in a very complete manner. Great expenditure was involved during last summer in installing the very latest and best equipment. Facilities for research laboratories will be made in the new extension, which will be largely taken up by the Departments of Biology and Zoology. At present the Departments of Physiology and Biological Chemistry are housed in the Old Medical Building, while that of Biology resides in the New Medical Building. The Department of Zoology is less fortunate, as for many years past it has been forced to use the theatre in the Redpath Museum as a lecture room and two laboratories in the east wing of the Arts Building for its practical classes. The centralization of allied sciences and the greater facilities offered by the new building will be a great benefit to the incoming classes in Arts and Medicine. The varsity swimmers of Yale overwhelmed Princeton in the Brook Pool and won the dual meet by a score of 41 to 12. The Princetonians retaliated in the water polo game, taking this by a score of 25 to 1. This latter game gave the Princetonians the intercollegiate championship in the sport.

NOTICES

Members of executives and others are requested to look under this heading for notices of all futurities. Each notice is absolutely official. The Editor will not be responsible for errors in articles unless the time and date are written out in full when they are sent in.

RUGBY PRACTICE.

It is expected that some day next week a practice of the Rugby squad will be held on the Molson Stadium. Now that the weather is fine it is hoped that the few days before college closes will be made use of. Men requested to turn out will be notified in due course.

UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Will all those members who are desirous of obtaining photographs of the House Committee please notify the secretary or president as soon as possible.

Will the men who have clothing in the locker room of Molson Hall kindly remove same as soon as possible as the University will not be responsible for clothes left in the boxes after April 30th.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

A Meeting of the Athletic Association will be held in Union, Friday 15th, at 5 o'clock. A full attendance of all members is requested as there is important business to be transacted.

SUGGESTIONS.

The Students' Council wish that all the students will begin thinking about the Students' night to be held next October during the Graduate Re-union, and request that any suggestions as to the form of the entertainment to be given will be left in a box provided for that purpose in the Union, or left at the desk for the secretary of the Students' Council.

MEDALS.

Medals for Swimming and Track have arrived from Toronto. Those entitled to receive these are requested to call at the office of the secretary.

Motion Pictures a Burden to Public Schools.

Citing the present-day motion pictures as a "clear case of defaulted responsibility," Dr. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts, declared that the public school stands "in greater danger of breaking down because of the tendency to load upon it more than its share of responsibility." Education of a progressive nature is being carried on and furthered in the schools, he said, but they are being expected to carry a much heavier burden than is rightly theirs. "Our education," Dr. Smith said, "is breaking down under the excessive social demands on our young people."

START EARLY

McGill's next chance at an Inter-collegiate Championship comes on October 22nd, 1921. Let's start next year right by winning the Track Championship for the third year.

It is quite true that we have several of the mainstays of the last two seasons with us again in the fall, but at the same time we are losing such men as Capt. Farthing, Bill Antliff and Wells, and their places will be hard to fill. Our only hope for next year is that some new men may be developed. Without doubt, there are a good number of men in the University who, with experience and training, could win honors on the track, but it requires much patience and determination to reach championship form, and most men seem not to realize that it requires more than a short three or four weeks to make honors in this course.

The fall season is so short that unless men begin to train and get into shape some weeks before the University opens, they cannot hope to reach their best form for the Inter-collegiate. Any man who plans to do anything at track should start not later than September 1st to do some jogging about three times a week. If he will do this he will be in shape to get down to real training at once upon return to college.

If there is any one way that we can insure a championship team it is by the simple method outlined above. Then come back early, fully determined to make a place on the team, or make some one else work to beat you out.

The University Meet will be held on October 14th, during the Centennial Celebration, and must be made a big affair. As the Inter-collegiate Meet comes the following week, October 22nd, there will not be time for another tryout, so the team will be picked from the showing made at the University Meet.

Everything points towards the keenest kind of competition for places on the team next fall. Practice will start at the Stadium the middle of September, and every man who possibly can should be out at this time. Everything depends on an early start.

The Stadium will be open to McGill students all summer, and any men who are in the city should make good use of it. Captain Kennedy and several other of the oldmen are going to work out this summer, and will give every possible help and encouragement to new men.

McGill's chances for the 1921 Track Title are as good, but no better than Toronto's. Let's give "Old McGill" our best, so that as the sun sinks behind the western horizon on the evening of October 22nd, 1921, there will be no occasion for regret in the McGill Camp.

F. VAN WAGNER.

R. V. C. NOTES

On Friday evening, May 6th, the members of the Senior Year will be the guests of the undergraduates of the three lower years at a dinner given in honor of the graduating class, R.V.C. '21. The dinner will be held in the dining hall of the R.V.C.

On Friday, April 4th, the S.C.A. met in the common room for the annual meeting. The reports of the secretary-treasurer, Social Service convener, and Bible Study manager were read and approved. The election of officers for next year followed, and were:

President—Lorna Kerr.
 Vice-President—Dorothy Teed.
 Secretary—Marion Holloway.
 Treasurer—Meredith Dyke.
 Social Service Convener—Nellie Safford.

Bible Study Mgr.—Dorothy Cross.
 Mission Study Mgr.—Alice Smith.
 Conference Convener—Zerada Slack.
 A conference of old and new cabinets will be held May 2nd, 3rd, 4th. Watch notice board for further information.

R. V. C. A. A.

On Wednesday afternoon, April 4, the annual meetings of the R.V.C. Athletic Association, the Societe Francaise, and the Delta Sigma Society were held in the common room. A large and representative audience was present to hear the reports and elect new officers. The officers for the ensuing session, 1921-22, are as follows:

In the R.V.C. A.A.—
 Hon. President—Miss Lichenstein.
 President—Mary Fry.
 Vice-President—Zerada Slack.
 Treasurer—Carroll Robertson.
 Secretary—Dorothy Sangster.
 Tennis Mgr.—Lois Ayleen.
 Swimming Mgr.—K. Newnham.
 Fancy Skating Mgr.—E. Banfill.
 Basketball Mgr.—Evelyn Snyder.
 Sports Mgr.—Jean Henderson.

In the Delta Sigma—
 Hon. Pres.—Miss M. Newnham.
 President—Ruth Shatford.
 Vice-President—Norah James.

J. L. O'Brien who has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the "Daily" for next year. He comes into office on the first of July.

GRADUATES OF MCGILL FORM PARIS CERCLE

Mouquin, Singer and Robertson Attending U. of P.

MET BY CHANCE.

Give Medal For Best French Translation of the McGill Yell.

It is particularly satisfying, in such a time of social and international disturbance as the present, to hear that there is some positive good being accomplished, and it is still more so when we realize that this consists in an effort to keep the spirit of Old McGill alive, in a far country, by a small group of loyal young graduates. It is not known generally that McGill has three graduates representing her at the University of Paris at the present time. Those men, all prominent in their undergraduate days, may still be remembered by some of the present student body. They are: Robertson, Law '20; Singer, Law '19, and Mouquin, Science '19.

It will be of at least historical interest to recount how these three sons of the Red and White finally met, and it will serve at the same time to show the need of an organization such as the Graduates' Society, formed for the glory of our Alma Mater.

The mutual meeting of the trio borders on the miraculous. Mouquin had hardly been in Paris more than an hour when Singer accosted him on the Rue Cambon. This happened on November 2nd, 1919. Then on the tenth of December, Robertson and Singer met in the Canadian Office. It was not until the first of February that the three assembled in solemn conclave. This will serve to show how absolutely useless it is to be in a hurry in France. When we realize that in the Faculty of Law alone there are over ten thousand students, the difficulty of finding one another can be easily imagined. But the eternal ties that bind the sons of Old McGill were bound to surmount these difficulties. The need of a closer understanding and organization was obvious.

The first meeting under the shadow of the door of the Faculty of Law, with the busts of Cujas, Pothier, Pontat, Dumoulin, Parlati, eages of Law, solemnly looking on, was very impressive. The first act was to adopt the Cafe Soufflet as headquarters, and the first official meeting was soon well under way.

This organization, the "Cercle McGill a Paris," showed itself worthy by its first official act, which was of a benevolent nature, namely, that a special medal be struck to be given for competition among the members of the Cercle Francais and Societe Francaise of McGill, for the best French translation of the McGill yell, taking into account the fidelity of the translation, phonetics, etc. It is hoped that this will be available for the first meeting next fall. The Cercle a Paris have had numerous occasions on which to regret the non-existence of this McGill classic in French.

It need hardly be mentioned that acts of benevolence are not the only functions of the Parisian Cercle; its social function is undoubtedly very important, and given the geographical location and the spirit of Old McGill, need hardly be gone into.

The political functions are somewhat limited by the conservative policy so characteristic of our Alma Mater, indeed not as active as is often the case even here at home. Yet it is worthy of note to know that the vice-president of the McGill Cercle is also vice-president of the newly-formed "Canadian Students' Association in Paris."

It has been learned through other sources that besides the formal meetings there are a great many impromptu affairs, where, over the odd "aperitif" or "digestif," many places and even reminiscences are talked over. It is hoped that this newly-formed branch of Old McGill in foreign land may spread the fame of our Alma Mater from the Pantheon to the Pere Lachaise.

The McGill Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club is one of the few athletic clubs which is able to boast of having had financial success during the past season. The Club was able to clear its expenses, which amounted to no mean amount, and have a suitable sum remaining in the treasury besides. In addition to this the turn-out was unusually large, the Boxing Club having at the opening of the season a record-breaking attendance of one hundred and fifty enthusiasts.

The coaches—McBrierty, Smith and McDonald—performed their duties faithfully in training their men for the Intercollegiate Assault-at-arms. These the former lacked a little energy while making the men work, but, in spite of this, he was able to hold his own with the wrestling instructor, George Smith, and train the winners in the Intercollegiate Club officials, too, worked hard to make the year successful; and, in addition to the assault-at-arms, which was held here, they succeeded in organizing two other meets—one in the form of a smoker, the other in the form of elimination contests for College championships. Thus the enthusiasts of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing activities were enabled to witness five nights of lively action. The Assault-at-arms, which was held in the Union on the 25th and 26th of February, was managed in a very successful manner, due to the efforts of the B. W. and F. executives. In this meet, which was the first of the year, Toronto came out with nine winners, McGill second with six, and Queen's third with two. The McGill men showed their mettle, and made their victors work hard for the laurels.

The Boxing Club, F. E. Shackell, the lightweight class, J. H. Edelson, in the featherweight class, and B. Brewer, in the welterweight class, succeeded in winning the Intercollegiate Championships. These are all in the first year of their careers, and will be able to compete against the other universities for at least another two years. They proved they possessed gameness and courage as well as hard blows.

The wrestlers who won in these classes are "Dave" McKeen, heavyweight, S. Bryant, flyweight, and W. Bantamweight. These men, with the exception of the first, who graduated next year, will be able to continue with the Club for two more years. An application was made by the McGill Athletic Association to the Athletic Association to have these minor sports into major sports. After a heated discussion by the association, the application was granted. However, these clubs were not given up hope yet, and will strive to raise the standard of these sports during the coming year.

Two out-of-town trips were made this year—one to Ottawa, the other to Pembroke. These were made by the boxers only, while the wrestlers had no trips. In order to encourage these trips, which are of benefit to the men, arrangements are being made this year to come the difficulties in making them. During the B. W. and F. annual meeting it was decided that the secretary of the Club was to be elected of these trips. Should he be one of the participants, his position would be taken by an assistant who would accompany the team. The officers for the coming year are as follows:—

President—MacKeen.
Vice-President—Brewer.
Secretary and Manager—Currie.
Representatives:—
Boxing Club—Shackell.
Wrestling Club—Reid.
Fencing Club—Fielding.
It is hoped that these new officers will do their duties with even more enthusiasm than their predecessors. They will do so the Club as a whole will be able to enjoy another successful year.

General Meeting.

There will be a general meeting of the Entire Song Book Committee on Thursday, April 14th, at 5.00 p.m., in the Union Grill. It is pointed out that nothing can be actually attempted before examinations, but during the week following exams much may be accomplished, and the chairman would like a full attendance, so that everything may be in line for a quick getaway. The attendance of the lady members is especially requested. Any others interested are invited to be present at what will be a brief meeting.

Correspondence should be addressed to the Chairman at the Union.

R. J. TOOKE'S CLOSE UP EAST END STORE

Are selling their stock of Semi-ready Clothes and Men's Furnishings at an average of Half Price. Must be out by May 1st.

The R. J. Tooke Stores in the Dupuis Freres' block on St. Catherine East is to be closed out on May 1st. The store fixtures are promised for delivery on that date.

By an unfortunate combination R. J. Tooke's lost their lease and Dupuis Freres took over the Rodrigue block which they had held for many years.

The whole stock must be sacrificed to clear, for the other Tooke stores had bought all their spring goods and have no room for an enormous stock such as was carried in the big store.

Semi-ready suits and spring top coats worth $75 are being sold at $37.50. Of course, it was easy to sell the cheaper goods. They went in the first days of the sale. The more expensive and exclusive things are still in the shop.

Fine linen collars are going at 10 cents in all sizes.

Shirts of superior fabrics at $1.55, and all silk shirts at half price.

Gloves worth $3 at $1.75. Hosiery, too, at like reductions.

"It's simply a question of getting rid of the stock. We take a big loss to get the people to move it out," said the manager.

MED. SOCIETY ELECTED NEW EXECUTIVES

Stenson To Be President
During Coming Year.

500 STUDENTS VOTED.

Three of the Seven Offices
Filled by Acclamation.

A high degree of enthusiasm marked the recent elections in the Faculty of Medicine for Undergraduate Society officers for the coming year. From nine o'clock in the morning, when the polls opened, till six o'clock in the evening, when the final call was made, a steady stream of students, male and otherwise, kept the ballot clerks in a turmoil of work.

This year witnessed the inauguration of the new popular method of voting in the Medical Faculty. In past times officers were nominated at the annual meeting of the society and elected the same evening by a show of hands. This year the election was held by ballot, and as a result of the facilities afforded the voters, practically every member of the society exercised the franchise. The total number of voters was in the neighborhood of five hundred.

Each year has its representative or representatives on the executive of the society. From the incoming fifth year the president, vice-president and case reporter are elected. From the incoming fourth year come the treasurer and councillor. The future third year supply the secretary, and the second year the assistant secretary.

The nominations had been posted in the reading room of the New Medical Building an appreciable time before the elections were scheduled to take place, and from the time that the nominees were made known till the hour that the results of the election were announced, the interest never waned.

Three men were nominated to fill the position of president, and till the final announcement awarded the office to Walter Stenson, B.A., considerable doubt was expressed regarding the winner. The interest taken in the election for this office was shown by the fact that several marked that ballot only. The total number voting for the presidency was five hundred and five, twenty-nine more than voted for any other office. Stenson was returned according to the following figures:

Stenson	240
Gordon	186
Coler	79

The two other offices to be filled by the incoming fifth year were returned by acclamation. These were: K. B. Johnston for vice-president, and H. H. Hart for case reporter.

For the office of treasurer, three third year men were nominated. Of these, M. H. Dawson was elected by a comfortable majority. The count was:

Dawson	188
Anglin	144
W. H. Y. Smith	144

From the same class, H. M. Elder was elected by acclamation to be councillor of the society for the coming year.

Enthusiasm was not limited to the upper years, as was shown by the fact that there were four nominees for the office of secretary, which is filled by a present second year student. Of the four, Emmons was elected.

Emmons	176
Lanthier	127
Ramsay	121
Crocker	52

The office of assistant secretary was awarded to Whidden, of first year, over his two opponents, Strap and Silk.

Whidden	189
Strap	151
Silk	120

At the annual meeting of the Medical Society, which took place on the fourth of April, the above men were installed in office.

Correspondence

Editor of the "McGill Daily":

Dear Sir,—

For the information of any who have regarded the last paragraph of a letter written by me, and published in the "McGill Daily" of the 18th ultimo, as a personal imputation against Principal Sir Arthur Currie, I wish to re-affirm that no personal feeling whatever toward the Principal was entertained by me while writing that letter, nor at any time did I have the Principal personally in mind throughout the discussion.

The matter was thought of as one of principle only, and never has any grievance been felt toward Sir Arthur Currie.

Since the impression has been conveyed that I have affronted the Principal, I wish to retract the last paragraph of that letter.

WHEN THE FOG LIFTS

For many long weeks a heavy haze has hung over that section of town which houses Universitas Collegii McGill. Through the haze from time to time mutterings and rumblings have been heard, and occasionally young men have emerged with their hair rumpled and a drawn look about their faces.

In many quarters it was rumored that the boys at last had gone to work.

But now the time of stress is almost o'er, and thoughts turn to summer.

Which urges us to lift our voice.

INDOOR TRACK MEET SOURCE OF INTEREST

Two Days Of Close Competition Next Month.

SENIOR HEXATHLON.

This Training Of Importance For Next Year's Work.

The Indoor Track Meet, held on Monday and Wednesday, March 21st and 23rd, was practically the last of the indoor track work to be done this spring.

The work started on Monday the eighth of March in the Molson Hall Gymnasium with a large turnout which taxed the capacity of the place. Each practice was patronized by about fifty to sixty men in the days of the meet. Many of those turning out were new at the game but all showed great enthusiasm over it and the interest grew stronger with each successive turnout. These things make up for the lack of accommodation and equipment.

One of the most important results of this training is that the men, and particularly the new ones, have been developing style and a knowledge of the various events which they will be able to put into practice this summer and return to college next fall in the best of shape for the various meets which are to be held. It will do much to raise the standard of competition in the local sports days.

The meet took the form of a senior Hexathlon and the results in the various events were very close. The total scores of the first ten men were:

Consiglio	425
Starke	415
McCulloch	387
Steadwick	379
Humphrey	364
Reaper	357
Buchanan	347
Meahan	340
Nelligan	287
Northup	276

The five best scores in each event were:

For the interest of those students who may be considering the possibilities of travel on the Continent during the summer months, and who feel the need of something more than mere sight-seeing, information on the opportunities for courses at some of the famous European university centres may be acceptable.

In France, the Universities of Paris, Dijon, Besancon, Grenoble, Poitiers and many others; and in Spain the University of Madrid, all offer excellent short courses for the special benefit of foreigners who may be in their midst for the summer. Such splendid courses supply a very great need among students who cannot remain across for longer periods, and have been proved by many to be of great value and assistance.

Any of the woman students of McGill who are looking for some openings of this kind will find the necessary information with Miss Hurlbutt, the Warden of the Royal Victoria College.

DR. MOYSE IS HONORED BY NATIVE TOWN

For Distinguished Service in World of Letters.

MERIT REWARDED.

Freedom of Torquay Conferred Upon Emeritus Vice-Principal.

We understand that Dr. Charles E. Moyse, Emeritus Vice-Principal and Dean of the Faculty of Arts, has been formally offered, and has accepted, the distinguished honor of having the Freedom of the Borough of Torquay, his native town, conferred upon him in view of his long and distinguished service in the cause of University Education and of Letters in Canada.

Torquay, the town which has thus honored the former Vice-Principal, is a thriving seaside place of some 40,000 inhabitants, situated on the south coast of Devonshire, on Tor Bay, some forty miles from the great naval and commercial port of Plymouth, and for many years it has been one of the most famous English watering-places.

In addition to the fact of his academic distinction, we may state that for many years past, Dean Moyse has been president of the Devonian Society of this city, and in this capacity has been able to do a great deal for those from his native county of Devonshire. By means of the Devonian Society, Dr. Moyse has also been able to keep up an active interest in the homeland among its many members.

Of his academic and administrative work here at McGill, there should be no need to make mention. During his forty-two years as a professor at McGill, as Professor of English, Head of the English Department, and later as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Vice-Principal of the University, Dr. Moyse has been able to engrave his name deeply on the roll of the great leaders of the past at McGill.

As a scholar of the old school, Dr. Moyse is no less famous. In addition to his remarkable and intensive knowledge of the whole vast field of English Literature, he is the author of several volumes of prose and poetry.

At the present writing, Dr. Moyse's plans with regard to the immediate future are undecided. In all probability, however, he will travel to England at some time during the summer months in order to be duly installed as an honored Freeman of the Borough of Torquay.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET AT MCGILL

School Boys to Gather on the Stadium Next Month.

The Track Club has started the work of encouraging school athletics at McGill, in announcing the date for a huge inter-scholastic track meet, to be held on the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium. The meet will take place on May 28th, and promises to be the biggest of its kind ever seen in this city.

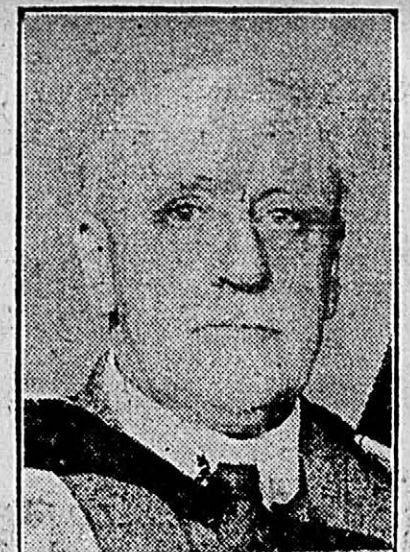

Contrary to the usual practices in the school meets held in Montreal, this meet will be open to schools all over the country, and keen interest is being shown in the competitions by many of the schools and smaller colleges in the eastern part of the country. An innovation in the manner of conducting the meet was also announced, with other details, when it was decided to stage the junior events on an age and weight basis. This system of matching the athletes has proved to be the one that gives the best chance to the boys, and was adopted on the recommendation of the Department of Physical Education.

The entries are expected to be so numerous that it will take a whole day to stage the meet. Starting at 9.30 o'clock in the morning, the officials will have a busy day ahead of them. The boys have to be weighed before taking part in the events, and the weighing is followed by the preliminaries in the field events, which will all be staged in the morning. In the afternoon the list of events should take the whole afternoon, even if they are run off at a very fast clip.

Mr. A. P. S. Glasco, the Bursar of the College, has donated a handsome trophy, to be competed for annually, and to be awarded to the school winning the greatest aggregate of points in the meet. In addition, the Students' Council is giving shields, medals and ribbons to the winners of the various events in the meet.

The staging of a meet, as large as the inter-scholastic is expected to be, means a great amount of work to the men in charge. If it is successful, they will be amply repaid for any efforts expended in preparing for the competitions.

RECEIVES HIGH HONOR.

Dr. C. E. Moyse, Emeritus Dean of the Faculty of Arts, on whom the freedom of Torquay has been conferred. This is a high honor granted to few. Torquay is the birthplace of the former Dean.

TENNIS TEAM TO MATCH HARVARD

Trip To Cambridge on May 26th For International Match.

As was announced in a previous issue of the "Daily," the Tennis team is making a trip to Cambridge on May 26th for the purpose of meeting Harvard University in an international match.

While at Boston, games have been arranged with Tufts University, Quincy Tennis Club, and a match may be arranged with the Longwood Tennis Club. This makes rather a busy week-end for the tennis team. No doubt during that time they will do much to impress the name of McGill on the minds of the good Bostonians.

Sport at McGill is due for greater expansion. In a few years our opponents will be members of universities known not only locally, but colleges familiar to all.

The successful meets held with Dartmouth College is skilful; the proposed football with universities over the border, all point to a greater field for our athletic activities.

It is hoped that in the coming year the Tennis Club will have an opportunity of playing more matches with other universities. A challenge has been received from Detroit University to play in Montreal in the latter part of May. The visiting of one college team to another school does more than provide a splendid display of skill and endurance; it helps to establish the "Entente Cordiale," a feeling of good fellowship as well as rivalry.

With the proposed extension of the Redpath Library, one or several of the courts on McTavish Street will have to be given up. There is plenty of room at McGill for a larger and more useful Tennis Club; for additional courts and an increased membership.

The rise of new buildings and the growth of the University should initiate the advancement and expansion of those college activities from which the student derives benefit—namely, athletics.

Let us hope that the Centennial Reunion next autumn will see the Tennis Club with a larger membership and more courts.

Si. Whiffletree

Lads,—Mebbe some on you'll sit up and gape when you hear tell that little Si's 'bout to shake the duck of the old McGill from his number nine once or for all. As I write them words, sumpin' like a 'cawn rises up in my old gullet and I feel like throwin' myself on my little bed and havin' a good cry.

Constitutional in course, I'm still a soapamore, but bein' as how the college professors knows good work when they sees it, they decided arbitrary to hand me a B.C.L. and a couple L.L.B.'s with the rest of the stevedores in old '21. On the other hands, I realizes perfect that if I harn't of watched my P's or my Q's durin' the year, I'd still be with you next turn. Sposin' I'd smoked in any but the last 4 seats 'over' to the Faculty of Laws. Would I get my decree? Not by a darn sike! Mebbe the law birds what existed on smokin' in the front seats ain't sore on themselves — oh no! At that I warned these here students half or a down times that the professors didn't like smokin' in any but the last 4 seats durin' lectures. All I got for my pain was to be told not to be so dum fastidious! Talk 'bout gratitudo!

Anyways, I reckon I'll be able to study better for the Bar exams up to Sims Corners where there's peace or quiet. For some time back, I been pestered sumpin' scandalous by the noise of the workmen on the new student residences. This hammerin' and sawin', not to mention cursin' and swearin', day arter day gets on a bird's nerves! Do you blame me for gettin' my dander up a few?

Then again, most probable, Shag'd be buttin' in on me constant, astin' me would I mind takin' charge of the second team spring practice, or how would I like to make a 4th at bridge up in Bob's room? Drat it all, how and the hang can a canny do any work when he's pestered with this kind of stuff. It's enough to get a poor bird's ghost — so help me Hannah, it is! Anybody what butts in on me when I'm up to my collar bone in the revived statues of Quebec and Madagascar's gonna get knocked for good, as they say.

Jest the same, leave me tell everybody in the McGill, includin' even the medical students I been treated white by one or all and I'll be hornswoggled into a mess of fried cabbage if I misremember it. Any professor, student or janitor'll be welcome as the flour in May do they want run up to Sims Corners this summer. On arrivin' at the depot, call up the telephone operatin' girl and ask her will she put you on to Whiffletree 44 and a couple 2's, ring 6. Then soon's I get hep that it's somebody from the old Red or White Royal Institution of book larnin' waitin' down to the depot, watch my dutch! Even if Pa has to sleep in the barn, I'll make room for you. And if there's a hull gang on you, I'll go out and sleep in the barn too — by crickey, I will! If that ain't college spirit — what'n time is?

As my old playmater, J. H. Edel of the McGill Daily Journal Staff says: 'If the lady wants carfare, she's to yell!'

Well lads, s'long till the old McGill Special pulls in at Sims Corners with McGills dripping from every pore.

Faithful,
SI WHIFFLETREE,

TRACK WORK-OUTS DURING SUMMER

Van Wagner Ready to Coach All Turning Out.

Coach Van Wagner has given his time and energy unsparingly during the past year, and has devoted to each man his personal attention. He is continuing the outdoor work, and for the past two weeks has been with the men in short runs, which prove a great help in getting their muscles in proper shape. On Monday, April 13th, the first work-out of the year was held in the Percival Molson Stadium, and these will be continued on every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, between the hours of 5 and 6. Molson Hall will be open for dressing and showers, and Van will be on deck to coach the men who appear between the hours mentioned. Although practices will go on for two hours, it is not advisable to keep at it that long. Men are asked to turn out at whatever time they can between 4 and 6, as the work will only last about a half an hour.

As it is understood that these practices will continue throughout the summer, all men who are to be in Montreal—whether they have had previous experience or not—are asked to take advantage of the use of the Stadium and the benefits of the track practices and Van Wagner's coaching.

Morris Sax, diminutive quarterback of last year's Washington State College team, is back in college at Pullman now. He had planned to attend Stanford and to play for the cardinal eleven, but later decided to go back to Washington. There is no doubt but that his presence will greatly increase the chances of the Washington eleven next fall.

With The Principal

When interviewed yesterday afternoon by a "Daily" representative, Sir Arthur Currie seemed highly pleased with the developments of the past year and with the prospects for the future. The Principal stated that he, as well as his associates and the students, regards the closing session as one of new life and new endeavor. It is to be hoped that all the students were as much interested in their work as the staff have been in theirs.

When looking backward over the past year its endeavors and achievements, one must realize how little he really knows and what an effort he must expend to make the best use of the opportunities offered him. It should be the firm determination of all to return to college at the beginning of next year with the resolve to make the best of the facilities the University offers.

From the standpoint of the number of students registered during the past year and of the records made in studies, sports and other activities one must be highly pleased with the uninterrupted success which has been ours. The general conduct of all demonstrates the high tone of life at McGill.

It is hoped that when the next session begins the existing vacancies on the staff will be filled and some of the new buildings will be under way. The students must be patient. The supply of money at the command of the University for the next five years is accurately known and is by no means unlimited. With judicious control good use can be made of this, but it is impractical that it all should be used up at this time of high building costs. If proper advantage is taken of the financial conditions the money will be used to far better advantage than if it were immediately expended. The deferring of part of the building program for a time may result in an extra edifice being constructed than would be possible under existing conditions.

Sir Arthur wishes the best of fortune to all the students during the vacation which is soon to begin. He hopes that success awaits those who will spend this time in work, and that those who do not will use the time at their disposal to their best advantage. He expressed deep appreciation for the loyal support which has been accorded his co-workers and himself.

The Principal dwelt at length upon the good which can be derived from participation in proper activities outside the class-room, and stated that these were largely responsible for the building up of an esprit de corps, which means so much to a college. Referring to the coming reunion of the graduates he stated that all are looking forward to this event with great interest. While many of the graduates are far distant from the school to which they owe so much, none the less they have not lost interest in it, and are returning because to them Alma Mater means far more than a name.

Class and faculty officers, to encourage the game at college in this way. Frank Shaughnessy, who has so ably coached the team in past seasons, will again be seen on the Stadium, and with the help of last year's captain, "Dud" Ross, will make strong efforts to turn out three championship teams.

Fall training will probably commence around the middle of September, and all those who intend to turn out should sign their names and addresses on the list in the Union lobby, so that they may be notified as to the date of the first practice.

The game will be under new rules this season, and members of last year's team, as well as all others turning out, must be at the early practices. As the opening game here is early in October, hard work must be done to have the men in shape to defeat Varsity before the Centennial crowd.

Together with everything else, football, too, ought to take its place in McGill's glorious year—1921.

"CERCLE MCGILL A PARIS."

EVERY EFFORT NOW BEING EXERTED FOR YEARBOOK

Late Start Postponed Delivery—Press Now Pushing Work Hard — Head of Firm Assures Board of Adequate Delivery For All Subscribers—Out April 23rd.

In the early days of March, the Yearbook Board in all sincerity made the statement that the Yearbook would be completed and in the hands of the undergraduate subscribers within the first week in April. Such was the expectation then, an expectation backed up and warranted by circumstances as they were in March. The first week in April has of course come and gone: what then of the Yearbook?

Doing their best to back up their estimation of the date, the Managing Board of the publication, Messrs. Noad, Lawrence and Macklauer, have been in constant daily contact with the printers. According to the original schedule, all clubs and societies were to have their photos, write-ups and executives in the hands of the Board by the end of February. The Board, in its turn, was to have all this copy and photographic matter in the hands of the printer by March first. Laxity and procrastination on the part of a few clubs who did not have the necessary material in the hands of the board until March upset the schedule. In consequence, instead of the printer getting the material on the first day of March, it was not delivered to him complete until March tenth. That was the first set-back.

The engraver, in his turn, did not turn out this end of the work until almost a week's additional delay. The number of photographs in the Yearbook is very large, and consequently that accounted for part of the engraving delay. The engraver's end of the job, then, was set-back number two, delaying the publication by almost another week.

The printing of course in its turn held up by the delay in the engravings and the copy. One thing hinged on the other—all were cogs in the Yearbook machinery—and when one of them stuck, it was a case of a slow-up all around. Starting out almost three weeks behind schedule, the printer has accorded the Yearbook Board the best services that could be furnished under the existing circumstances. The close liaison of the Board with the printer has been of the most harmonious character; for the past fortnight all concerned have been pushing the work and exerting every possible effort. But printing, unlike manufacturing, is work that can only be hurried on within certain limits. A certain number of presses can only turn out so much work. Time and a half inducements avail nothing when the working force is a printing-press. A definite output is the limit: it cannot be exceeded. This is the case with the Southam Press; they are at the present moment exerting every effort to speed up the work. They appreciate the circumstances of the situation—fully realize that it is vital that the publication be in the hands of every subscribing undergraduate well before his last day at McGill—and Mr. W. W. Southam, managing director of the firm, has stated in conference with the Yearbook Executive that a sufficient number of copies will be available to supply the needs of all men who will be leaving on or about that time. His personal intimation to the Executive was to the effect that he would see to it that the men who had early need of the Yearbook would be in possession of their copy by the end of next week. According to his schedule, of the thirteen hundred books that have been ordered, approximately eight hundred will be delivered at the latest by April 23rd. That is, according to the statement of the one who is in the best position to know, every effort of Southam Press, Ltd., will be exerted to have eight hundred books in the hands of the Board for distribution by Saturday week. No faculty breaks up before that date: the remaining five hundred copies ordered go to Medicine and the staff. These will be delivered approximately April 25th. Including the much-worried Yearbook Executive—all should be satisfied. The book will be in the hands of every man well before he leaves for home—that is assured—and that is the main point. The publication is one that is primarily to be taken home as a souvenir—it is a relaxation for post-exam days—is not and should not be issued in the middle of exam. worries when studies would be interrupted—boiling it all down, the delay has done more good than harm. In fact, the delay may account for many a man passing his exams who might have been numbered amongst the pruned ones had the book come out in time to draw him away from his studies. Certainly one pike at the alluring contents, and the lecture-notes would have been discarded in favor of Stephen Leacock's humor in the Yearbook. Thence to another literary allurements—and eventually—but such is not the case, or the temptation will not be there. Yes, it's all or the best.

DELIVERY DETAILS.

When the book is available for issue, the issue will take place from the Union, with the exception of Science and R.V.C. The Yearbook representatives will be notified the night before, and a notice will be posted in the various buildings indicating the exact time he will be on hand at the Union with his lists, etc., to make the issue. The Faculty representative will be put in possession of as many copies as his faculty signed for and will be entirely responsible for their issue. When the issue is complete, he will return the books uncalled for, and get a receipt for them. Books that are not called for will be delivered to the Porter of the Union a day afterwards, and thereafter will be obtainable from him.

For the R.V.C., the total number of books subscribed for will be sent over to the College, and distribution from there to the R.V.C. Dept. of Music, M.S.P.E. and partials will be in the hands of the R.V.C. Representative, Miss W. Birkett.

For Science, it will simply be necessary to ask Harry for your book.

The Yearbook Board appreciate the consideration and patience which the student body have shown, and ask them to bear in mind the fact that in the printing business, all specific promises must be accepted with the reserve which is demanded by unforeseen contingencies. We trust that the facts enumerated above will be accepted in the spirit with which they are given, and while we make no apologies whatever in this matter, we can assure our subscribers that every possible effort will be made to expedite delivery.

If present plans materialize, the stadium will be ready in 1924, just in time for the next Olympic Games. And along that same line, why not the National A.A.U. Games, the Western Intercollegiate and numerous dual meets with eastern representatives.—Daily Illini.
